How do I get customer consent for recording a call?

Admins can choose to configure the call recording at a number level as “Record calls manually”. With this setting, agents can start recording calls after customer opt-in at any point in the conversation. A prompt message is also displayed to remind admins that appropriate greeting messages should be used to notify customers that their calls are being recorded.

How is my data in Freshcaller protected from misuse?

All data including personal data and call information are encrypted at transit and at rest in the product. As a data controller, it is important for you to assess what data you're collecting in the call recordings and notes. This information must be minimized to the extent necessary for you to provide service or support. As a data processor, Freshworks performs operations or set of operations on this data only based on your action and in compliance with applicable regulations.

Do I need to move my data to a EU based data center to be GDPR compliant?

GDPR does not require EU personal data to stay in the EU, nor does it place any new restrictions on transfer of personal data outside the EU. GDPR only mandates that such transfers be legitimized through any of the mechanisms provided in the regulation. Some ways of legitimizing transfers are through EU-US Privacy Shield Certification and Model Contractual Clauses. Freshworks uses both ways to legitimise data transfers with our customers. Freshcaller is built with a telephony partner Twilio and the required data transfers are protected by the EU-US privacy shield. However, if your organization's policy requires you to store data in the EU, you can choose from the available Freshcaller plans to move to our Frankfurt data center
